Buscamos GitHub y elegimos la opción de crear cuenta

The image shows the GitHub sign-in page. At the top is the GitHub logo (Octocat) and the text "Sign in to GitHub". Below this are two input fields: "Username or email address" and "Password". To the right of the password field is a link "Forgot password?". Below the input fields is a green "Sign in" button. Underneath the button is the word "or" flanked by horizontal lines. Below that are two buttons: "Continue with Google" and "Continue with Apple". At the bottom, there is a link "New to GitHub? Create an account" and another link "Sign in with a passkey".

The image shows the GitHub sign-up page. At the top right is a link "Already have an account?". Below this is the heading "Sign up for GitHub". There are two buttons: "Continue with Google" and "Continue with Apple". Below these is the word "or" flanked by horizontal lines. Then there are three input fields: "Email", "Password", and "Username". Below the password field is a note: "Password should be at least 15 characters OR at least 8 characters including a number and a lowercase letter." Below the username field is a note: "Username may only contain alphanumeric characters or single hyphens, and cannot begin or end with a hyphen." Below these is a dropdown menu for "Your Country/Region" with "Peru" selected. Below the dropdown is a note: "For compliance reasons, we're required to collect country information to send you occasional updates and announcements." Below that is a section for "Email preferences" with a checkbox "Receive occasional product updates and announcements". At the bottom is a dark button "Create account >". Below the button is a paragraph: "By creating an account, you agree to the Terms of Service. For more information about GitHub's privacy practices, see the GitHub Privacy Statement. We'll occasionally send you account-related emails."
